McCoy Defeated For Governor by 54,000 Majority

Harding Runs Wild in Rock County, Getting Margin of 13,399—Lenroot Wins by 9,000 and McCoy for Governor Comes Through with Lead of 1,014.

BULLETIN

Milwaukee, Nov. 3.—John J. Blaine, republican candidate for governor, is holding a lead of 54,902 over his democratic opponent, Robert B. McCoy, according to the latest state returns compiled at noon. Lenroot has a lead of 23,380 for United States Senator over his nearest opponent, James M. Thompson.

The results on governor from 1217 precincts out of 2425 in the state give McCoy 109,449; Blaine, 164,851; Coleman, 35,785.

The results on United States senator from 1389 precincts out of 2425 give Reinsch, 35,037; Lenroot, 117,973; Weber, 33,173; Thompson, 94,593.

Returns from 1357 precincts out of 2425 in Wisconsin, for president give Harding (R) 268,097; Cox (D) 61,789; Debs, (Soc.) 20,707.

New York, Nov. 3.—One of the most sweeping republican victories in party history today stood recorded for Senator Warren G. Harding for president and a republican congress.

Tremendous and unparalleled republican pluralities beginning with the first county of ballots in yesterday's election continued mounting today.

Defeat in their fight both for the presidency and congress was conceded early by democratic national leaders on the basis of the crushing republican vote and despite the absence, even early today, of final and official figures.

With the presidency and congress went loss to the democrats of governors, state legislatures and other state and local candidates. The break even threatened to extend into the border states hitherto "solid south," with republican gains in some southern states larger than any since the Civil war.

Senator Harding's victory, in what Governor Cox of Ohio, his democratic opponent, and other democratic leaders and many prominent republicans hailed as the solemn referendum upon the league of nations, was impressive. In the absence of final figures, the swelling tide of huge pluralities, early today, gave him assurance of 320 votes in the electoral college as against 127 for Gov. Cox, with 76 doubtful, inclusive of states where the republican tide was running strong.

Largest Majority in Years.

The unofficial reports presented a larger majority for the electoral college for Harding and his running mate, Gov. Coolidge of Massachusetts, than any since 1888, except along the vote of 131, in which President Wilson in 1912, during the republican "split."

New York, Nov. 3.—At noon, eastern time today, the congressional returns were complete from 19 states, but all the returns then available showed a republican gain of 25 in the house of representatives, offset by losses of 3.

New York, Nov. 3.—Republican control of congress for another two years which increased house majority and a prospective increase of 15 states, but all the returns then available were a major part of the election sweep.

A net gain of 20 votes in the house was shown with complete returns from only 17 states, but with most of the democratic strongholds reporting.

O. P. Senators Win.

Eight of the 18 republican senatorial candidates had come in winners today, the 7 others had substantial leads, while in 10 other states all of the republican entrants were defeated.

For 19 democratic senators, all returned winners—all from southern states—white in the border and western states the others were fighting an uphill battle.

G. O. P. Ahead in West.

That the general republican landslide would set several more record-breaking records was predicted confidently by republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of 8 to 10 in the next senate.

Both the republican presidential and senatorial tickets were reported early today, ahead in California, Nevada, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Idaho, Ohio and Washington. In Ohio, former Governor Frank B. Wallis, who nominated Senator Harding at the Chicago lead, was reported in the 16 precincts complete.

Matheson (R) 5,546

McWilliams (D) 4,967

Ridgway (R) 14,106

Murvin (D) 12,573

In the second district of Rock county, which had no opposition and was given a seat in the assembly by a complimentary vote of 7,526.

Anti-Jap Land Law Carries California

San Francisco, Nov. 3.—Returns from 1,200 out of 6,154 precincts in California give 123,848 votes for and 41,156 against adoption of the anti-alien land amendment to the state constitution. The vote on a prohibition enforcement amendment stood 56,475 in favor of adoption and 110,298 against.

Underwood Re-elected.

Of the democrats Senator Underwood was re-elected, and Rock county landside was set several more record-breaking records was predicted confidently by republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of 8 to 10 in the next senate.

Both the republican presidential and senatorial tickets were reported early today, ahead in California, Nevada, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Idaho, Ohio and Washington. In Ohio, former Governor Frank B. Wallis, who nominated Senator Harding at the Chicago lead, was reported in the 16 precincts complete.

House Veterans Re-elected.

In the house, most of the veterans, both republicans and democrats were re-elected, including Speaker Gillett, now holding the record for consecutive service in the house.

Former Senator Frank B. Williams, who served 22 terms, and who was re-elected, as was Representative Mann of Illinois, former republican leader; Chairman Good of the appropriations committee, and other prominent committee chairmen.

There were relatively few changes of committee chairmanships expected to result in either senate or house, but increase of republican membership and decrease of the democratic usually follows a marked change in political control.

Penrose Wins Tax Measure.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The republican landslide in the solon reform endum on the league of nations has had an apparent effect on President Wilson's health. Rear Admiral C. T. Grayson, his personal physician, said today after a visit to the president at noon, "He added that the president had not slept a good night.

Wilson, it was said at the White House, did not vary from his usual routine, attending to official business and reading the morning newspapers.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Reports of changes in the electoral map of different parts of Ireland. Barracks at Ardmore were burned. A military relief party enroute because of registration card had been lost, made strong protest against their disbandment when they visited the city hall on mass. The barracks had reg. 1000. The city hall at Ardmore was burned and their cards were never lost. The demand was that the city officials ruled the registration card and burn the registration card.

HE WINS IN WISCONSIN

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS)

New York, Nov. 3.—Interest in the New York state on the day after election centered on the game right.

Gov. Smith was the only republican candidate for president yesterday

HARDING ELECTION

C. O. P. IN NANCY

the most enthusiastic republicans. Still to C. O. P. McCoy. Everywhere the shift toward the republicans was heavy. Many of a public went to the democratic meetings when Wilson was elected. In the general election of 1916, reflected in the republican campaign in yesterday's balloting, Boston going republican for the second time in its history; New York giving Harding an unhearable plurality and ratios of two to one in many states give indication that the proportions of the republican tide which yesterday left the democratic camp are not so strong but the traditionally solid south.

This morning, 24 hours after the national balloting began, it appears that no returns have come from all districts and not one in another day but the trend of those returns being reported gave no indication of altering the situation.

Cox Mukler no Comment. Gov. Cox received his defeat without any show of feeling. He withheld any comment after remaining at his newspaper office at Dayton, Ohio, until almost midnight, and seeing his own paper issue an early extra edition recounting the returns.

Senator Harding, Governor Coolidge, with many others of the republican national committee, and other republican leaders, exchanged telegrams of congratulations. Senator Harding commended Mr. Hayes upon his successful management of a great campaign, and said Gov. Coolidge "will expect him to play a full part in the coming republican administration."

Deaths Death of League.

The league of nations issue was stressed by Senator Borah of Idaho, prominent among the leading foes, in a statement declaring that he regards the election as "the triumph of nationalism and the death of the league of nations."

None of the minor parties, the socialist, farmer-labor, nor prohibition, figured in the presidential returns. Socialist headquarters at Chicago claimed an increased vote and the party re-elected three New York socialist assemblymen who had been expelled.

Woman Socialist Elected. The first woman socialist, ever elected to the New York assembly, Marion H. Laing, also was successful.

Eugene Debs, the socialist presidential candidate, received the returns in Atlanta penitentiary. The farmer-labor candidate, Farley P. Christensen, of Salt Lake City, had not been located at an early hour today.

Senator Harding, with the receipt of the ballot findings—on his 55th birthday—announced plans for a vacation beginning next Friday. He will spend several days near Brownsville, Tex., then tour the Panama canal zone. Governor Cox also is planning a vacation at a hunting trip in Mississippi.

Oilie for Harding.

New York, Ohio—the home of both Senator Harding and Gov. Cox—Illinois and Pennsylvania furnished the largest republican pluralities. That of New York, where Gov. Smith, democrat, and Nathan L. Miller, republican, were neck in neck in the gubernatorial fight, was close to the million mark. Total, the republicans, at the present time, about 500,000, and Pennsylvania about 400,000.

Prohibition was a subject not reflected upon the face of returns, but Representative Volstead, of Minnesota, author of the constitution enforcement law, was in a close race.

Small defeats Lewis. Republican governors in Connecticut, Illinois—where former Senator Lewis was defeated by Leo Smale—and Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan and New Hampshire, were all successful. And in the west, Gov. Roberts, until official returns, was behind Alton Taylor, republican, but the democrats were claiming Roberts' election.

With but final or official returns, decisive pluralities and leads indicated the certainty of the following for Harding:

California, 15; votes: Colorado, 6; Connecticut, 7; Delaware, 3; Illinois, 22; Indiana, 13; Iowa, 13; Kansas, 10; Maine, 4; Massachusetts, 15; Michigan, 15; Minnesota, 12; New Jersey, 4; New Hampshire, 4; New York, 45; Ohio, 24; Oregon, 5; Pennsylvania, 38; Rhode Island, 5; Utah, 4; Vermont, 2; Washington, 7; West Virginia, 8; Wisconsin, 13; Wyoming, 2. Total, 329.

Cox has 127.

Governor Cox had safely the following:

Alabama, 12; votes: Arkansas, 9; Florida, 4; Georgia, 14; Kentucky, 13; Louisiana, 11; Mississippi, 10; North Carolina, 12; South Carolina, 9; Texas, 29; Virginia, 12. Total, 127.

Lacking sufficient returns and doubtful results were the following:

Arizona, 4; Idaho, 4; Montana, 3; Mississippi, 1; Montana, 4; Nevada, 5; New Mexico, 3; North Dakota, 5; Oklahoma, 10; Tennessee, 12; South Dakota, 6. Total, 75.

Reserve—Harding, 329; Cox, 127; doubtful, 75. Total, 521.

Closes in Oklahoma.

The republican ticket, presidential and senatorial, was leading in Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Missouri, Montana, and South Dakota. In Oklahoma the race was said to be the closest in history, with the democrats ahead. Official figures from Missouri gave Gov. Cox a lead of 11,000 with but one-fifth of the returns in. In Maryland, Senator Harding had a slight lead.

G. O. P. Carries West.

Unless some such figures were to appear, it was apparent that the returns were making good the republican prediction that Cox would not carry a western or a northern state.

In many aspects the election was unusual. It developed what may be the greatest republican victory of party history. Both the democratic candidate and his chief managers conceded defeat before enough returns actually were in to show it in figures. With the election went as a "solemn referendum" on the league of nations, and if it may be said that the electorate regarded their votes as an expression on that question they registered a preference for Harding when declared for "carried out" as against Cox, who declared for "going in." It was a landslide which exceeded the expectations of

News Notes From Movieland
BY DAISY DEAN

The creation of a new movie picture star is always an event, and a new one will shine forth from the screen within the next few weeks. It is Alice Calhoun, the comely young actress who has been playing small roles in Vitagraph productions. She first had her already been selected "The Dress of Destiny." Work will be begun on it within a fortnight.

Mrs. Calhoun's rise as a motion picture favorite has been rapid, for she has paid for the camera less than a year ago. Miss Calhoun began her work with Vitagraph with a short O. Henry film. Previous to her work with them she played in "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Everybody's Business." She was leading actress for Harry T. Morey in "The Sea Hawk" and appeared with Earle Williams in "Captain Smith."

Originally she was a Cleveland girl and was educated in that city. Her present home is in Riverside Drive, New York City. You can see her photo in the paper pretty. What you cannot tell is that she is of medium height, slender, and has a profusion of light brown hair and large, expressive dark eyes.

GOSSEY BITS
Illa Lee will appear opposite Fatty Arbuckle in "Dollar a Man" under James Cruze's direction.

OUT OF THE SUNSET
Eva Novak, who is being starred in "Out of the Sunset," is a sister of the well known screen star, Jane Novak. "Out of the Sunset" is which Eva Novak is to be married in an amateur romance by George T. Moore, southern California newspaper man who acquired a valuable experience while doing police reported work in cities along the Mexican border. The picture will be the Universal brand.

CLARE WHITNEY A BRIDE
Another event recently features Clare Whitney and Robert Ernest Keane. They took the fatal plunge and said yes to the matrimonial questions. The romance was sudden and unexpected. In fact, Miss Whitney was thought to have promised to marry a film actor. Then she played in "The Innocent Ideal."

HAIRDING AND COOLIDGE AND THE FUTURE.

Mr. Cox is defeated overwhelmingly. That is enough. It would be futile to go into reasons why. That will be left to the experts on post mortem. What the republic is interested in is the fact that with a voice unmistakable, the republican ticket has been elected, and we will have Warren G. Harding for president and Calvin Coolidge for vice president with a position more than that of a figurehead. And behind the president will be a strong senate and house of representatives of the same faith.

The responsibility is great. There is an enormous work of reconstruction, left undone and neglected, confronting the new administration. The republic is two years behind. What should have been done following the armistice has yet to be done. We are assured that we will have immediate cessation of the technical state of war with the Central Powers. We can proceed with measures to relieve the domestic stress coming for an inflated currency. We can solve some of the problems which high living cost and consequent profiteering have presented to us. The republican party cannot dodge nor straddle. It must look the future squarely in the eye and go forward unflinchingly.

In Wisconsin we will have a nonpartisan league governor. It may be said of Mr. Blaine that he owes his election to his own personal worth and not to the company he was in. Mr. Blaine has a task. The legislature will be opposed to the nonpartisan league. There are enough hold-over senators and a sufficient number elected to block any program of state socialism which Mr. Blaine and the league leaders might attempt. But we believe that the better judgment of the newly elected governor and the responsibility of the position will deter him from any revolutionary program.

While the election of Senator Lenroot is at the writing not a fixed fact, the trend of the voting seems to show his election and a rebuke to the senior senator well deserved and well deserved. Wisconsin is a republican state and not a state of revolution, and after all it was a matter of far more consequence that Senator Lenroot should be returned to his seat than that McCoy be defeated.

The election of Senator Lenroot makes him the leader of his party in the state. The action of the senior senator has placed him without the pale of the White House when it comes to the patronage that will be given Wisconsin—a deep and abiding wound to the La Follette vanity.

PINK BALLOT WON IN ROCK COUNTY.

The little pink ballot won by a large vote in Rock county. It seems to have carried throughout the state. It means the wiping out of the saloon bars and regulation of the liquor traffic under supervision not only of special officers of the state, but it makes the local peace officers responsible also.

THE WOMAN IN THE VOTING.

Much of the republican victory may be credited to the women of the nation. That is the case especially in Wisconsin where the large vote for Robert McCoy and Senator Lenroot may be attributed to the new element in politics.

Here in Rock county the best evidence of the influence of women is shown in the Third ward, where the nonpartisan league ticket was buried beneath an avalanche. It may be taken for granted that the woman is going to vote her own ballot, that she has studied the political questions and that she goes with mind made ready to support those things in which she believes.

A peculiar fact about the voting in all the county was the ticket suggested by the Gazette, Monday, and to this may be attributed the large vote given Frank Derrick for Lieutenant governor. This ticket was voted generally in the city of Janesville.

The nation welcomes the women in the field of her citizenship and she has fixed her position by this, her first election.

A RETURN TO AN AMERICAN POLICY.

When President Wilson stated that he would submit the League of Nations and the peace treaty to a solemn referendum he apparently reckoned without the people as had been too often his wont. His fatal error was in not knowing the people of his own nation.

The solemn referendum has been held and the republic has decided that it wants neither the policies of Wilson as expressed in the candidacy of James M. Cox nor a continuation of anything that favors of the Wilson administration. This has been so overwhelming that 15 hours after the polls have closed, it appears to be the most disastrous defeat given to any candidate not excepting Alton B. Parker in 1904. Only in the south, with its disfranchisement of more than half of its citizens, has the democratic party made a respectable showing.

If the election means anything, it means a return to an American policy, both at home and abroad. We have the assurance of Senator Harding that this will be the aim of the administration. We need it—a strong, virile policy that will settle the unrest that has followed a perverted attempt at being a great world military power and sit in the sunlight of Klugs and emperors.

Apparently New York state felt that Mr. Root was a safer man to follow than Mr. Wilson.

We may expect that Governor Cox will charge that the presidency was bought.

This wasn't a landslide; it was an earthquake.

Defending the National Parks

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C. Nov. 3—A great battle of words, growing out of last session's legislation and to be carried into the chambers and committee rooms of Congress at the coming session, is now being fought to decide the question whether industry, in the form of water power, and irrigation projects, shall be allowed to invade the National Parks of the West, or whether these shall be kept as the unspoiled bits of wild nature which they now are.

At the last session the anti-National Park forces, in a surprise attack, tremendously dented Conservation's center by getting National Parks inserted in the Water Power Act, and narrowly missed a sweeping victory in a last minute defense stand on irrigation as exciting as Horatio's historic battle at the bridge.

The National Park forces, mighty glad of a chance to recuperate, are now sounding the loud call to arms far and wide. They announce their purpose, at the next session, not only to straighten out that big dent in their center and recover all the ground lost on both wings, but to dig in so deep and weave the web entanglements so thickly that their boundaries will be uncrossable forever more.

Meanwhile, the anti-National Park forces are bringing up big guns to defend their water power victory, and assembling their irrigation armies under able and experienced generals in Congress. Also they are eagerly negotiating with all possible allies.

Yet the immediate issues of the struggle are comparatively small. A little group of farmers, mostly Mormons, living in Idaho, southwest of Yellowstone Park, want to put a dam in the Falls River Basin of the Park, so that they may use the waters for irrigation. Another much larger group of individuals living in the vicinity of Livingston, Montana, north of the Park, want to dam up the outlet of Yellowstone Lake, so as to control the waters of the Yellowstone River for irrigation purposes.

Each of the projects would benefit only the people of a local community, and each of them, say the opponents of the projects, is unnecessary, in that the same results can be accomplished without invading the parks.

The benefits would be local, argue these opponents, but the damage done would be national in character. To dam up the waters of the Yellowstone Lake means to flood thousands of acres of beautiful wilderness; it means to introduce a new administrative force into the confines of the park. Likewise, to dam the waters of the Falls River Basin would be to ruin one of the best winter elk ranges in the Park system, and one of the two strongholds of the moose in the West; also to spoil one of the finest camping regions just at a time when Yellowstone patronage is leaping in immense bounds.

But this immediate damage which would be done to the national treasure of the parks, is not nearly so important as the precedent which would be established. If industry is once allowed to invade the parks, there will be no end to the invasion. If either of these two projects is allowed, there will be dozens of projects in a few years.

Ever since the parks and national forests were created, there has been a steady, consistent effort on the part of certain interests in the West to break them up, reduce them in size, or falling in that, to invade them for industrial purposes.

During the investigation of the technical state of war with the Central Powers. We can proceed with measures to relieve the domestic stress coming for an inflated currency. We can solve some of the problems which high living cost and consequent profiteering have presented to us. The republican party cannot dodge nor straddle. It must look the future squarely in the eye and go forward unflinchingly.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THIS LAUGHING BOY:
Just laughing all the time it seems;
Through the day and in your dreams;
Everything you do is full of glee;
Something's always in your full o' glee;
And our old dad watchin' by;
Who has often had to sigh,
Can't help softly chucklin' too.
Since the world's so gay to you.

When a boy is eight years old,
When's not so very cold;
Time was, oh, so long ago;
I was glad to see the snow;
Dull the day or bright the sun,
I could always have my fun,
And full many a joyful day;
Just like you, I laughed away.

Nothing seems to fret you much,
Light today is trouble's touch;
Rain or shine, it's all the same;
You can always have your glee;
Sorrows hardly ever you see;
You still laugh when we most sigh,
When you're eight years old, I guess,
When's not so very cold.

Watchin' you, so full o' fun
And forever on the same;
Your old dad, who comes to care
About your burdens he must bear,
Can't help watchin' that the years
Will be slow to bring you tears,
And he prays that all the while
You will keep your merry smile.

Keep the twinkle in your eyes;
Even when you're worldly wise;
Keep the love of all things good;
Even under sorrow's hood,
Grow to manhood as you must,
But in man retain your smile;
And though burdened you pile,
Strive somehow to keep your smile.

Who's Who Today

MISHA APPELBAUM.

The recent news of the accidental poisoning of Misha Appelbaum, head and founder of the Humanitarian cult, and his wife, brought to the public's attention the unusual career of this

Although he was known as a reformer and the head of the cult he is also a successful business man, president of a corporation dealing in precious metals, and president of the Musical Bureau of America. Appelbaum's wife was formerly Helen Yorke, concert singer.

Appelbaum is forty years old and his wife is twenty years old. Their marriage last April was performed by Supreme Court Justice Guy in his chambers, after a thirteen-day courtship. Miss Yorke lived in Boston and met Appelbaum at a recital in March, at which she was presented by Bishop Bisham. Appelbaum was invited because of his interest in music as president of the Musical Bureau of America, which was giving concerts.

Divorced by His First Wife.

Appelbaum was divorced at Reno by his first wife, the former Irma Costello of Cleveland, N. Y., in 1916 on the ground of adultery. She was the mother of their son, now ten years old, and $150 a month alimony was granted.

Appelbaum, it is known, was wealthy before he organized the Humanitarian cult in 1915.

During the investigation of the $2,000,000 Fusion campaign fund in 1919, it was discovered that $12,000 from the Fusion committee to pay for copies and circularization of the Humanitarian Magazine, Appelbaum said the cult had cost him nearly $500,000 of his own money. He also said he had spent $27,100 on the Stetlow case, $40,000 on the clothing strike and $60,000 on the peace cause, besides other large outlays.

Tells of Indebtedness.

Last November he admitted to members of the cult that he was heavily in debt and unable to concentrate on building up another fortune and that the cult would have to move to a smaller quarters.

Appelbaum was born in Russia of Jewish parents and raised in luxury. He made most of his money in the copper business. He was a pacifist before the war, but during the war he declared America must win the war and he declared America must win the war and he declared he would marry for a second time shortly after the death of his first husband.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

DEAR JOE:

The baby tried to sit up today, can you imagine that, Joe? I don't say he actually sat up, past tense, but with a perfectly free conscience I can say he got up as far as the end of his neck and that's at least starting at the right end, you might say. That's the first time he's tried to sit up by his little self, but of course he can sit up perfectly with a little assistance, such as pulling him up by his little arms to a sitting position and then quickly putting pillows behind his little back.

At first he didn't seem to care much for Sophie, the new nurse-girl, and every time she came near him when he was enjoying a good ey he would stop immediately and start to make complaining noises, but he seems to be quite fond of her now and in revenge she just does on him. And although as I told you, she is very impressionable when it comes to letting things be concerned, such as my best cut glass and the baby.

In reply to the question whether I want you to send me any samples of Dandelion Soup, the Daisy Canned Soup Co.'s latest. I'm torn between doubt and hesitation. Personally, the answer would be emphatically No, because I make a martyr of myself just for the sake of an experiment? But then on the other hand I'm thinking of Sophie, who being a vegetarian by religion may be able to stand more in the canned soup line. And then on still the other hand, it seems adverse towards the first can I'll have all the best left on my hands with the painful thought of eating a can every once in a while out of a feeling that waste is sinful no matter how excusable. So on the whole Joe don't send any. Trusting that nothing I've said will induce you to show too much consideration in selling D. C. Soups, I am as ever,

Your loving wife,

TESSIE.

Heart and Home Problems

By ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman eighteen years old with one child of two and a half years. My husband works away from home and I am alone at night. Do you think it is safe for me to stay by myself?

There is an old friend of my husband's family, about fifty years of age, who stays at our house when my husband has been away. He has had a hard time, wants to stay, being a widower, and wants to stay alone at night. The neighbor around here don't seem to like it is right, but I can't say any harm, as he sleeps upstairs. Let me know what you think about it.

I have one neighbor friend here who is very good to me and the other neighbors have told me things about him. They got angry at her because their husbands had a little trouble. I do not want any trouble with any of the neighbors because I must live here amongst them. What should I say to me when they talk about her to me?" E. D.

Whether or not it is safe for you to be alone at night depends upon the conditions under which you live—your neighborhood, your own state of mind in regard to fear, and the closeness of your neighbors. Personally I advise a woman who is fearless and does not hesitate to stay in a house alone.

In the end you will probably find it more satisfactory if you do not let the friend of your husband stay in your home during the absence of your husband. Although you and the man and your husband are not out with the right attitude toward it unhappiness might come to one of you. Your husband might become jealous without cause, or new love might come to the man or to you. It will be better not to play with fire.

Keep the neighbor friend who is kind to you. Tell the neighbors who do the talking that you like the woman. Don't be afraid of losing their friendship, because if you are cordial to them they will like you anyway.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman thirty-four years old and have been married only one year. My husband will not send down more than a few weeks at a time and I can't depend on what he tells me.

When he sends for me I go and am only there a few weeks when he goes some place else. What would you advise me to do? He never sends me money. He never thinks of helping me in any way. THANK YOU.

From your letter I should judge

CLINTON

By George Correspondent. Clinton—The freshmen of Clinton high school entertained the high school pupils Friday evening, Oct. 29. Three marriages in one month in one family is a rather unusual affair. Several members of Clinton and Mrs. Stewart's home district attended the homecoming in the home of the district where Miss Stewart is teacher. The school house decorations in orange and black were particularly artistic. The children gave a good program. Mrs. Will Mayhew, Clinton, prepared several solos, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Peterson. The proceeds were $12. The marriage of Laura Schuenke and Elmer Reimer took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schuenke, at 2:30 p.m. Saturday afternoon, Oct. 29. The couple have always lived in Clinton and have many friends who wish them joy in the future.—The Eastern Star members partook of a dinner at their chapter room Monday evening. New Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson were home Saturday and Sunday.—Miss Angie Douglas is home for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee returned from Harvard Thursday, where they visited their daughter and son. The tall pole just installed at the corner of Main and Court streets will carry the new cable which marks the moving of the old telephone exchange to its new quarters in the near future.—The next Lycum number will be James A. Burns. Saturday, Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Wells moved to Clinton last week and are situated in the home which they recently purchased from Mrs. Edward Eldridge.—A war gun has been shipped to Clinton for monument purposes. "It was God who helped us," he said humbly, "no one else could. You are safe. Once, you are un虧."

"I must be bruised, I suppose; it was an ugly fall—and I really think I lost consciousness at first. Then I seemed to hear you come so long ways off, and the cabin after."

"Yes, those devils started it at the rear. You can hear the wood crackle even down here, and we must get farther back out of the way. When the roof falls this part of the floor may cave in also."

In spite of the increasing volume of flames above, scarcely a glimmer to where they were hidden. A very slight glow found entrance through a narrow crevice, and then, very slowly, he was compelled to learn their immediate surroundings: more by sense of touch than sight.

They were in a mere hole scooped out from the soft earth, hardly wider than the trap door which led to it. The other puppeeds of the group, following, followed the ground, also by leading the way, feeling his passage along inch by inch, was suddenly halted by an earth barrier which seemingly halted all further progress. He could feel that it did not wholly reach the top, leaving a space through which it might be possible to travel. Yet what would there be beyond? Why should they venture further at present? Land was outside with his Indians, the whole scene lit up with the glare of flames. They dare not venture to leave themselves, for they were beyond reach, ages. Unless some among those savagans knew the existence of this tunnel, or accidentally stumbled upon its outer entrance, they could scarcely be expected to venture even to find their way in this barrier of earth, which would block them, and, if necessary, form the best possible defense. Confident that they had perished, and that their charred bodies were lying in the midst of the still smoking debris, one guard watching to an attempt at escape. He reached out and grasped her hand, drawing her down beside him.

"What is it?" she asked in a whisper.

NEBRASKA TRIMS RUTGERS, 28-0; "BIG TEN" DOPE

Another triumph for the west in intercollegiate football came Tuesday when Nebraska defeated Rutgers at the Polo Grounds, New York, 28 to 0. The smothering victory of the Cornhuskers came through straight football.

Once, at the very beginning did the Jersey team hold the invaders. After that it was all with the west. In the third quarter, Rutgers made several long gains through the Nebraska line but not long enough to gain a score. A fumble was costly to Rutgers, driving Nebraska their third touchdown.

Badgers Leave Friday.

Smashing under the last minute defeat suffered at the hands of Ohio state 10 days ago, the Badger grid iron squad leaves for Milwaukee Friday night to battle with the Minnesotans. Every effort is being made to bring a tie to the Cardinal locker.

Weston is still unable to play, but Mike Knapp, former Janesville basketball star, will figure as a heavy player.

Light practice was held Tuesday by crippled Gophers. Elberg and Timmer will play Saturday. Elberg and McClinton worked at center Tuesday while Bailey filled in at full back and O'Brien and Webley were given a chance to run the end.

The crippled Maroons worked under the eye of light Tuesday with the ghost ball. Unsuccessful attempts at forming a new back field were made for the game with Illinois Saturday. Rouse is Stagg's main hope at half to carry the ball.

Watkins, Mohr and Heilstrom are still on the Illini sidelines. Zuppus is bolstering his lines for the big battle.

Purple Take Xmas

Rest was the order for the bodies of Northwesterners Tuesday, but not for their brains. Mid-season exams were the rule. Efforts were made to have the men take the tests earlier in the day but they were unavailable.

Iowa's first and second teams scrimmaged hard Tuesday. The freshmen beat the Purple team plays against the varsity with limited results.

PAUL IN COMMAND GOLD BASKET MEN

"White" Paul, Janesville lad and former local high school basketball star, is to have charge of the varsity and freshman basketball candidates at Beloit college as they report today for the first practice. An all-Wisconsin conference game last night "White" will take over the reins.

First basketball practice starts this afternoon in the college gym. More than 30 candidates are expected today with 50 more in for all season classes. Two games are planned before Christmas.

MILTON COLLEGE TO BE REPRESENTED AT MILWAUKEE

Milton—The future policy of the Wisconsin College Association, which was formulated last year for the purpose of conducting a $5,000,000 drive for funds, will be determined Friday at a meeting of college presidents and trustees in the Hotel Pabst, Milwaukee. Milton college will be represented at the conference by President G. D. Dolan, recording secretary of the state body, and Trustees A. L. Burdick, G. F. Belknap, and W. H. Ingham.

BASEBALL TIPS

Pittsburgh—Officials of the Pittsburgh National League baseball club announced they have signed a $10,000,000 drive for funds.

The money will be used among thirty-five clubs and a full share comes to $333,300. Those who have been voted a half share will receive $14,165.

Seattle—Ty Cobb, who is playing a series of exhibition games in California, is said to be the Babe Ruth of the New York Giants. The gross amount for the team is $15,160,250.

New York—Gotham fans believe the owners of the Giants have done much to land a pennant this year by signing Hoboken to assist from 260 miles. The acquisition of the former Detroit boss was enthusiastically received among fans and sporting writers.

Ducks Hit Lake Koshkonong at Last; Two Weeks Good Hunting Promised

The ducks are at Lake Koshkonong!

There are about a million of them, or thereabouts. Tuesday the geese started taking to the wing and by today they should be flying just about right.

At last, the hunter has been waiting for this chance. The cooler weather of the past two days they have been sitting and resting far out in the middle of the lake during the

Only a very few of them went aloft on Monday while the rain was pouring. Tuesday quite a number of them got off the water and started playing. The clear, brisk weather of today with the breeze is just about right for good hunting.

Good for Two Weeks.

But the hunter just gets a few, say the old timers. He has to follow, advancing day by day that he possibly can. Because there is only a small amount of food such as wild rice and celery at the lake this year, it is quite likely that the ducks will not remain in these parts very long. Besides, it will take weeks at the latest before the real cold weather sets in and drives them all southward.

There are so many hunters, and there will be many more, that the large bagging season will be out of the question. Some of the sportsmen are so anxious that they are hanging away at the birds as they arrive near the lake and shooting while the geese are away up in the air, driving them onward in their southern flight.

TANKS AND RAILS WILL CLASH TONIGHT

First basketball game to be played on a local court this season will take place at the armory tonight when the tank corps of the local national guard and the St. Paul Ralls clash. Both teams have been practicing.

Hockey Referee Locked In Snow in Alaska

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—Mickey Ion, who operates a referee at all games of the Pacific Coast Hockey association, is snowbound in Alaska and must "mush" out over the winter trails in order to reach here in time for the opening games in December. Ion spent the summer in the Tanana country, nearly 200 miles, and was caught by the early freeze, just as he was preparing to leave for the "outside."

Al Lippe, manager of Jeff Smith, heavyweight champion of Bayonne, N.J., has signed to "box" at Madison Square Garden next week with Mike O'Dowd. It is now up to O'Dowd's manager.

Bob Martin, A. E. F. heavyweight champion of Philadelphia, has signed to a one-round decision bout at Washington, D. C., Friday night. Martin scored a knockout over Larry Williamson the Brooklyn giant.

Bob Martin was beaten after the Washington contest. Martin will invade New York in search of bouts.

WELLING'S MANAGER WILL SUE COMMISSION

Milwaukee, Nov. 3—Joe Welling must appear before the state boxing commission Nov. 22 and show cause why he should not be penalized for "stiling" in his bout with Lew Tenner Oct. 26.

The commission held an all day meeting and at its conclusion directed Promoter Joe Welling to appear before the commission on Nov. 22, 1920, with $5,000 guarantee.

The board left it to Welling as to what he would do with Welling's $3,000.

Chairman Liginger said that after thorough investigation the commission was unable to secure any information to prove that the bout "was prearranged for fake."

Tommy Welling, manager of Joe Welling, will start suit against Chairman Liginger and the Wisconsin state boxing commission for holding up Welling's money and for injuring the fine young boxer in the ring, he said.

It is charged that the chairman of the commission is acting wholly without rights and that he will test the commission's right in the courts.

WORLD SPEED BOAT SERIES NEXT SEPT. 3

New York, Nov. 3—Date for the 1921 international motorboat race for the Harmsworth trophy, emblematic of the speed boat championship of the world, was announced by the racing commission of the American Power Boat Association. The cup, won last August off the Isle of Wight by the Miss America, will be defended September 3, 5 and 6, probably in the vicinity of New York. Challenges are expected from Great Britain and France.

MINNEAPOLIS CUE STAR MAKES NEW HIGH RUN

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Arthur W. Woods of Minneapolis set a new tournament record in the pocket billiard championship tournament.

ALL STARS PLAN TO FORM HOCKEY TEAM UNDER "Y"

Formation of a hockey team will be started by the Janesville All-Stars backed by A. E. Bergman, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. The decision was made at a meeting of the Stars held at the Y. M. C. A. night at which A. J. Steiner, general secretary of the Y. C. A. spoke to the young men and praised them for their sportsmanship.

In following this plan, every effort will be made to get an ice rink either to rent or to build either on Rock River or an artificial one in some part of town. Steps will be taken to form other hockey teams so that games can be booked with outside organizations.

Training Is Necessary.

In talking to the Stars, Mr. Steiner stressed the necessity of physical training in the growing boys and encouraged them to cooperate with the Y. M. C. A. and attend the gym classes. He offered his whole-hearted support to the organization, which now in its eleventh year, and praised them for their record of a clean plus a reputation.

Besides basketball, football, baseball and tennis, the Stars plan to take up contests next summer and to enter contests with teams from other cities.

Basketball practice of the Stars will commence next week. The schedule is now open for names. The material looks good. "Old" Hussey is elected secretary. No president was chosen that office being left open until the boys can find someone capable of filling it.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Nov. 3.—Southern Pacific was the leader at today's market session, holding the greater part of its subsidiary, Gulf and Western Railway, which was strong, but other oil roads reacted with shipping, steels, equipments and numerous specialties.
Heavyhanded was shown by Standard Oil, American Woolen,
International Paper, and several of the leather issues, which lost 3 to 6 points.

Investment rails were steady, but the cheaper issues, particularly South western railway, Pittsburgh, Rock Island and St. Louis Stock Exchange, 1 to 1.50 points.

Call money opened at 1.00 per cent and exchange rates on London and Paris were lower.

Stock market gain and trading was broad at the opening of today's session, but the general tone of the market indicated that financial and speculative interest did not equal the results of the presidential election.

STATE BUILDERS TO GATHER HERE

Cars From 29 States Seen Here

Contractors' Convention Is Scheduled for January
12, 13 and 14.

With the date little more than two months away, arrangements are being made now for the ninth annual convention of the Master Builders' Association of Wisconsin, to be held in Janesville, Jan. 12-13 and 14, have been fixed, as are the dates for the big sessions which will bring to Janesville hundreds of contractors from all parts of the state.

The 1921 convention is significant in that it is being held in the city which holds the distinction of being the birthplace of the organization, eight years ago. In 1912 a few contractors met in the office of William Ford, this city, and planted the seed for the organization which has grown so fast that it is now made up of 1,100 members representing 193 Wisconsin cities, towns and villages.

An invitation has been extended to members of the local city council to attend all meetings of the convention, and the banquet, which will be one of the features.

Four Janesville contractors held positions of importance in the association. The list of officers follows:

Nicholas C. Ferre, Milwaukee, president; Eugene L. Mundine, Oskosh, first vice president; George Kamm, Racine, second vice president; J. P. Cullen, Janesville, third vice president; Joseph C. Schmid, Green Bay, fourth vice president; H. G. Zickert, Watertown, treasurer; O. H. Ulbricht, Milwaukee, secretary. Janesville men on committee are: Emil Dautz, legislative; William Ford, membership; E. E. Vandeveer, finance.

The association invites the Janesville community to have been the first in the state to pass an ordinance requiring contractors to be licensed.

Voice of the People

Editor Garrison: I notice in your yesterday's issue that our street commissioner, Mr. McKune, asks that people do not burn their leaves on the asphalt pavements for the sake of the pavements. So far I agree with him entirely, but I would go two steps farther. Don't burn the leaves anywhere for they make a disagreeable smoke and we cannot spare them as a fertilizer. I would go to say, burn the leaves for they will always clog the gutters. Here is where I take issue with our Commissioner. I wish to say very emphatically that we cannot afford to burn the leaves here in the city. We need them desperately for a fertilizer.

When we drove horses we had plenty of manure for our gardens. But since the auto and the truck has supplanted the horse vehicle we are suffering for want of good fertilizer. Mineral fertilizer alone is not sufficient. We must have vegetable matter as well as the mineral fertilizing elements. Leaves are about the only vegetable matter that is available for the gardens that our boys and girls are trying to grow. It is disheartening to see boys and girls trying to raise gardens on unfertilized city lots.

I know one very fine gardener, a man now 91 years of age, that gathers all the leaves in the neighborhood and stores them for the scratching shed for his hens during the winter. He keeps the scratching floor about six inches deep with this litter. Occasionally he shovels the litter out and uses it as manure. And how the vegetables do grow in his garden. I have asked a number of the boys under my instruction what they do with the leaves. Some say that they burn them for they have no use for them. But others say "we put them on the gardens and spade them in." Some say "we do as the old man does, use them for litter for our poultry first."

But I know a man in our city that has a very unique way of disposing of all surplus vegetable matter, not only the leaves but the roots, the kitchen as well. It is a very fine gardener, so to keep the garden fertile he buys manure once every three years, but in the intervening years he uses the accumulated vegetable matter. This is how old it does it. He has dug a pit three feet

Proclamation

By T. E. WELSH, Mayor.

Two years ago at this time several million mothers and fathers of America's young manhood were awaiting news from their boys at the front and scattered throughout the various military camps in this country. They were all and vowed that if they were returned safe to their arms sacrifice would be too great to make in their honor.

When on Nov. 11, 1918 the glad news was flashed over the wire that the armistice was signed by the whole country went out with a shout. It is therefore appropriate that on the second anniversary of this great event, the citizens of Janesville celebrate it in a fitting manner. I therefore ask that the citizens of Janesville to set aside their business affairs on the afternoon of Nov. 11th and ask the manufacturers and business men to close their factories at 12 noon and give their employees a half holiday. That the whole city assist in making the ceremonies of the day, a success.

T. E. WELSH, Mayor.

71 GET MATERIAL FROM GAZETTE'S QUESTION BUREAU

Seventy-one people took advantage of the free literature furnished by the information bureau of the Gazette directed by Frederick J. Haskin in the last week. Forty-six more — who are readers of the Gazette — are the ones who received the pamphlet on "School Child's Health" and 23 pocket booklets on the political issues of the day and a magazine of Nations coverage. One person asked for a book on the storage of vegetables and one, a booklet on common colds.

Many and varied are the questions asked by subscribers, all of which are answered ready and free by the bureau. Many questions which take a good deal of time to look up and answer are free of charge for Gazette readers, who receive a personal answer if postage is enclosed.

One woman asked the bureau to furnish a child in a school until the parents could get a place of their own.
